

To: lloyd.etheredge@yale.edu

From: "Alan I. Leshner, CEO, AAAS" <aaas-response@elooop.goldlasso.com>

Reply-To: "Alan I. Leshner, CEO, AAAS" <aaas-response@elooop.goldlasso.com>

Date: Fri, 16 Jun 2006 10:54:41 -0400

Subject: Introducing Science Online Seminars

X-SubscriberID: 613427

X-ScheduleID: 5164

X-YaleITSMailFilter: Version 1.2c (attachment(s) not renamed)

We're now taking you behind the scenes of Science , presenting the authors of life science research papers in Science Online Seminars -- our compelling new online audio/slideshow feature.

Now Showing on a Computer Near You

Every other week, the editors of Science select an author of a breakthrough paper to discuss the application of his or her research and/or the methods and protocol.

You'll meet leading scientists whose cutting-edge papers have made Science the premier scientific journal. You'll hear thought-provoking accounts, supported by a variety of visuals, as they describe their work in critical areas of interest to life scientists.

Access Science Online Seminars, 24/7

The show starts whenever and wherever you want to watch it. Just go to Science online from computers everywhere:

<http://www.sciencemag.org/onlineseminars>.

We hope you take advantage of this new AAAS member benefit as we continue to expand the universe of science.

Sincerely,

Alan I. Leshner

Chief Executive Officer

American Association for the Advancement of Science

Executive Publisher, Science

Science Online Seminars are produced by the Office of Publishing and Member Services