

November 15, 2000

To: Interested Colleagues

From: Lloyd Etheredge, www.policyscience.net

Re: New developments: Kaisernetwork.org & researchchannel.com

1.) You might be interested to know about an initial (domestic) policy development channel (kaisernetwork.org):

Dear Kaiser Family Foundation Email Subscriber:

Because you subscribe to one of the Kaiser Family Foundation daily reports, or have indicated an interest in new online features, we wanted you to be one of the first to know that kaisernetwork.org, a free webcasting and news summary website, is now live.

Kaisernetwork.org was created to bring key health policy information to policymakers, journalists, and the health care community. This web site www.kaisernetwork.org is intended to help you get the information you need as it happens through features such as:

 HealthCast: regular live and archived online webcasting coverage of key meetings, press conferences, congressional hearings, and other health events inside and outside the Beltway

 National Health Policy Calendar: comprehensive listing of health policy, reproductive health and HIV/AIDS events by topic area

 AdWatch: an up-to-date library of national and local health policy ads with analysis of ad strategies and messages by health policy experts

 Daily News Summary Reports: online reports in health policy, HIV/AIDS, and reproductive health, offering summaries of national and regional news and links to original articles. Kaiser First Edition: available at 8:30 am, this new daily email provides an early morning glimpse of the day's top health policy news and events.

The following email alerts are available from kaisernetwork.org. As a subscriber, some of these reports will be familiar to you. We hope you will explore them online and discover their new format and features, including "email this story to a friend."

 Kaiser Daily Health Policy Report

 Kaiser First Edition

 Kaiser Daily HIV/AIDS Report

 Kaiser Daily Reproductive Health Report

 HealthCast Update

 Customized Weekly emails of selected stories from the Daily Reports

 AdWatch Update

Your opinions are important to us. Please share your comments, suggestions, criticisms and questions with us. You can email us at editor@kaisernetwork.org or call 202-347-5270. In addition, we encourage you to send your organization's press releases and event announcements to share your latest news with the entire health policy community. The greater the exchange of information we have, the more valuable the service will be to everyone.

Sincerely,

Kaisernetwork.

2.) You also might be interested in a non-profit startup from the University of Washington, www.researchchannel.com, which provides NSF and other research conferences from leading US universities in a range of formats, from low bandwidth Internet and video-on-demand to high definition satellite television, to its participating schools & national audiences.